Full-Stack developer with two years of experience working with .NET in corporate IT solutions and projects for large business lines. I am a versatile, self-managed and dedicated worker with a broad skill set that has led me into a deep-dive learning of various IT disciplines, including web applications, infrastructure, automation & customer support.

EXPERIENCE

.NET Developer

Accenture - 12/2023, Present

In charge of the development of new features and bug troubleshooting for a global workday tracking system used by vendors and company employees. Primarily built in several .NET Core WebAPI solutions working simultaneously as microservices to provide logic and functionality from the backend, and the desktop frontend developed and maintained in Angular.

Application Developer

ExxonMobil - 10/2021, 12/2023

Responsible for the development, maintenance and upgrade of intranet sites using Sitecore Content Management System (CMS), targeting a diverse client base and audience. My role involved providing robust support to a .NET web application backed by industry-standard coding practices, in hand with frontend technologies to develop responsive user interfaces and customized components to enhance the overall user experience

- Developed & Planned new features aligned with customer requirements, following Epics and User Stories
- Performed consistent maintenance & troubleshooting to enhance the overall application performance and fix major issues
- Implemented CI/CD workflows to build, test and release source code to ensure the correct app lifecycle
- Mentored/onboarded colleagues and new hires
- Performed technical support and customer service, interacting with the clients and attending incidents through ServiceNow
